African American Women Survivors in WI: Focus Group Findings

Tuesday, October 28 from 1:00-2:00 PM
Webinar

Data show that African American women victims are over-represented as domestic violence service recipients in WI, and in rates of intimate partner homicide, both as victims and as perpetrators. End Abuse held a series of focus groups to amplify the voices of the women whose stories were behind the statistics. African American women survivors shared their experiences, opinions and ideas during these meetings. Please join us to discuss the focus group findings, and to explore ways they can inform, and transform, our work. See Details for more information and to register.
