

Duluth Model Training - Creating a Process of Change for Men Who Batter-Comprehensive

Is this a DVAM Event?: No

Go live:

March 20, 2014

When: May 13-15 Reduced Price $395.00

Where: Wautoma WI

New reduced price only for Wautoma Training $395.00. This training is the prerequisite for buying and using Creating a Process of Change for Men Who Batter, the curriculum for helping men identify and change beliefs that support using violence against women. The curriculum and trainer methods are grounded in the Duluth Model, a constantly evolving philosophy and practice based in the Domestic Abuse Intervention Programs work to end men's violence against women through a coordinated community response.

The training is perfect for anyone who is starting a batterer intervention program, who is new to men's non-violence group facilitation, or who has been facilitating for awhile and would like to refresh their insight and information.

Register on-line at: theduluthmodel.org or by calling toll-free at 1 866-417-6111, option 1. Use Code word "Wautoma" when registering.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/29/2015 - 6:22pm): <http://wcadv.org/content/events/other/duluth-model-training-creating-process-change-men-who-batter-comprehensive>