

Our Work

WCADV provides Wisconsin domestic violence member programs and their communities with training, technical assistance, support and resources to assist them in serving all victims of violence and their communities. We work for social change that will prevent domestic violence and support violence free communities.

We provide a forum for member programs to network with each other and with other agencies whose work intersects with survivors of domestic violence. You can find a listing of the more than 80 domestic violence programs in the state in our Get Help directory.

Many of our staff specialize in one or more areas. To find out more about our work, please select a topic:

Access to Services	National Clearinghouse on Abuse in Later Life (NCALL)
Aging & Disabilities	Outreach to Underserved Communities
Children and Youth	Prevention
Coordinated Community Response	Public Policy
Economic Justice	Rural & Tribal
Health Care	Technology Safety
Homicide Prevention & Reporting	Teen Dating Violence
LGBT Q	Training
Legal	Wisconsin Batters Treatment Providers Association

Source URL (retrieved on 02/27/2015 - 12:00am): <http://wcadv.org/ourwork>